SENATOR PLAYS IMPORTANT PART

E. E. Moore of Connersville Introduces Amendment to Proctor
Bill Which is Voted Down.

WENT SAME ROUTE AS OTHERS

Makes Speech Asserting a Corrupt Bargain Had Been Driven With the Liquor Interests.

Senator E. E. Moore of Connersville, Rush county's joint senator, played a very prominent part in the opposition made by the Republican inority in State Senate in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon, before the Poretor bill, providing that the unit of the present county local option law shall be changed from the county to the incorporated city, township and townships outside the incorporated city, was passed by a practically straight party vote of 29 to 21, as was predicted yesterday. The bill came up for third reading yesterday afternoon at two o'clock and after the amendments of two Republican senators, introduced to change some feature of the bill, had been voted down Senator Moore took up the fight.

He proposed an amendment to the bill which would make provisions for setting out clearly that the people in "dry" territories which would become automatically "wet" by the operation of Senator Proctor's measure, should be given a chance to vote out saloons again if they so desired. He pleaded that the amendment be incorporated, as he declares that in the seventy counties of the State now "dry," by reason of the operation of the county local option law, the people should have a voice before the territory became automatically "wet."

"I simply make this charge," said Senator Moore, "that this legislation is partisan—that it is for certain interests and against the principles of the Democratic party as preached from one end of this country to the other."

He asserted that a corrupt bargain had been driven with the liquor interests, and referring to the liquor hearing before the Committee on Public Morals recently, said:

"You gentlemen sat here not long ago while the terms of your corrupt bargain were thrown in your teeth. You were shown that forty of the seventy counties now 'dry' will become automatically 'wet' under the Proctor bill and eighteen more will probably become 'wet.' Here is a great field from which a special interest has been driven out and now you Democrats are entering into an alliance with this interest against the principles you have heralded for many years."

The speaker quoted from a statement, which he said Governor Marshall made, warning the people of the State that a Republican Legislature would repeal the county local option law, and asked the Democrats in the Upper House if the inference—that the Democrats were against such repeal—was not plain.

Senator Kistler followed Senator Moore, and after satirically commenting upon the statements made by the Republican solon, told of the birth of "the illegitimate child"—county local option. He said the "child" sprang from a meeting of the Republicans with the Anti-Saloon League, which he designated as "paid interests." He said Senator Moore officiated at the birth of the "child" and naturally wanted to wipe his eyes at its coming death. His motion to lay Senator Moore's amendment on the table was carried by a vote of 28 to 21.

TO SEND CHILDREN TO HENRY COUNTY

Center Township Patrons Find it
More Convenient to Use Spice-land Township Schools.

BILL FOR THAT PRESENTED

George W. Williams of Knightstown, Henry county's representative in the Legislature, has introduced a bill in the legislature, which provides that children may be transferred from one corporation, maintaining a consolidated school, to another, if the second corporation is more convenient than the first. Patrons, living in Center township, this county, which is located on the extreme northern line, prefer that their children attend school in Spiceland township, Henry county, as it is more convenient for them to go to and from their school. Center township has a good consolidated school, but there are a number of farmers, residing near the county line, who find it much more convenient to send their children to the Henry county school.

CLOSE THE HAVENS SCHOOL BUILDING

City Health Board Orders Suspension of Work, When One of the Pupils Dies.

6 OTHER CHILDREN IN FAMILY

When the news reached the city health board this morning that parents were taking their children out of the Havens school in West Third street, because a member of the school had died from diphtheria, Dr. J. G. Lewis, secretary of the board, promptly called a meeting of the board and it was unanimously voted to close the school until the scare is abated. It is thought that there will be no real danger from the exposure, as the girl, Olive M. Downey, who died, had not been in school since last Thursday. The health board will open the school as soon as it is believed that time for contracting the disease has passed.

The little girl who died, did not take sick until Sunday, even though she was not feeling well Friday and did not go to school. She was insured with a small industrial policy, but just one week ago today, her policy was increased so that her parents will receive $100 from the company. There are six other children in the family, all of whom have been exposed.

REGARD UNION WITH DISFAVOR

Henry County Officials and Attorneys Still Kick About Proposed Judicial District Change.

POLITICIANS ARE VERY ACTIVE

Judge Jackson of New Castle Believes New District Will be Created.

Henry county is much worried over the prospective union of Rush and Henry counties into a judicial district. There are few persons concerned who do not look with disfavor on the plan and who believe that the business will be much heavier with the proposed union than under present conditions. The New Castle Courier says:

Judge Jackson yesterday said that he would not be at all surprised to see the general assembly create a judicial circuit consisting of Rush and Henry counties, making Shelby a circuit of itself. The Democrats can not control the situation as long as Shelby and Rush are combined, and Democratic politicians of Shelby county are seeking the change.

Should such a change be effected, as anticipated by Judge Jackson, he would have to take care of an enormous increase in court business. As it now is the Henry circuit court business is exceedingly heavy and getting heavier each year. While to combine Rush and Henry counties would be to increase very greatly the labors of the judge, there would be no more pay for him. He would be allowed $300 per annum for traveling expenses, however.

The New Castle Times adds the following:

Now that the December term of the Henry circuit court is nearing an end, there is evidence that the joining of Henry county with Rush county or any other county, for that matter, as one judicial circuit, would be a very foolish act by the legislature, is seen, and such action undoubtedly would not be taken were the legislature, or its committee, to take a thorough investigation. Such a combination would only go farther to congest the affairs of the court, which now has more than it can do.

GETS NEWS WITH DELIGHT

Local Rural Mail Carriers Hear of Salary Increase.

It was with considerable delight that the twelve rural mail carriers out of Rushville received the news today that the national House of Representatives yesterday passed a measure, providing that the salaries of all rural carriers should be increased one hundred dollars on the year after, the first of next July. This applies to carriers with routes of 25 miles or more. Carriers with routes under 25 miles will be increased proportionately.

MUST ANSWER ROBBERY CHARGE

Dan Williams of Greenfield, Suspected of Being Implicated in New Palestine Case is Returned.

WAS ARRESTED IN CLEVELAND

Cordie Martin Still Maintains he is Not Guilty—Is Arraigned in Court.

Upon his arrival in Indianapolis at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Cleveland in custody of Detective Chauncey Mannin, Dan Williams, suspect in the New Palestine bank robbery, is said to have made admission connecting himself with the case and which, it is believed, will prove valuable in the prosecution of Cordie Martin, charged with grand larceny and robbery, according to an Indianapolis dispatch.

Williams is said to have confessed discussing the proposition of robbing the bank with Martin, but said that he did not participate in the robbery nor did he receive any of the money taken. According to the confession of Vance Deery, who acknowledged implication in the robbery and upon whose statements the State expects to prosecute both Martin and Williams successfully, Williams did not accompany them on the trip, though he originally had planned to do so. It is alleged by Deery that Williams was to receive one-third of the loot as "hush money."

Martin was arraigned in criminal court in Indianapolis this week and still maintains that he is not guilty of the charge. He still declares that he had nothing to do with the case and that he will fight it to the last ditch, despite the fact that Deery has confessed and implicated him. The three men will be tried in Indianapolis and not sent back to Hancock county.

It is understood that Williams was applying for a position on the Cleveland police force at the time of his apprehension.

There are two indictments against the three men, one for grand larceny and another for conspiracy to commit a felony. They are charged with stealing from Edward Fink, John H. Binford and Charles J. Richmond, comprising the New Palestine bank.

Williams is a Greenfield man. According to the State the men have been charged with bank robbery before but indictments were not returned against them. Bond on the grand larceny charge was placed at $5,000 and on the other charge $1,000.

"606" INTERESTS LOCAL DOCTORS

Watch Dr. George B. Jones of Fort
Benjamin Harrison Administer
the Famous Medicine.

IS A COMPOUND OF ARSENIC

Three local physicians journeyed to Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis yesterday to see Dr. George B. Jones, formerly of this city and now first lieutenant of the medical corps, United States army, administer the "606" remedy. The party included Drs. Lowell M. Green, Frank Green, W. C. Coleman and Ed Pittman of the Lytle drug store.

The medicine known as "606" is a compound of arsenic, discovered by a German physician and has attracted great interest in the medical world. It is said to be the only sure cure for a very serious disease. The medicine receives its name from the fact that this is the six hundredth and sixth compound given to the world by the german scientist.

Dr. Jones has used the medicine extensively and the local doctors took advantage of the opportunity to watch him in his work. Dr. Lowell M. Green has received some of the medicine, being the first in the city to get a consignment.

FORMULATE PLAN TO CLOSE OFFICE

Rushville Postal Employees Hope to Interest Ministers and Churches of the City.

SUNDAY CLOSING IS OBJECT.

Will Circulate Petition All Over City,
Asking Right to Have Sabbath Day Free.

* Hon. Charles A. Frazee, *
* Postmaster, Rushville, Ind. *
* Sir:—Whereas, we do not be- *
* lieve that Sunday mail is a ne- * * cessity, we respectfully petition *
* you that the local Postoffice be * * closed on Sundays and that *
* Sunday work be dispensed with *
* as far as possible, in order to * * give the Postoffice employees *
* one day of rest each week. *

The above is the context of petitions which will be circulated all over Rushville in a few weeks, which is in accord with the general movement over the country to close the post-office on Sunday. The agitation has been current here for the past few weeks but the writing of the petition by the post office employees is the first move that has been taken. They already have outlined a detailed campaign and expect to carry it out shortly. This is only in line with the movement which is spreading all over the United States. Everywhere the postal employees are taking up the plan and in many cities it has already been successfully carried out.

It is the plan of the city letter carriers and postal clerks here to solicit the aid of the ministers and churches of the city in closing the office on Sunday. It is understood that the movement will be indorsed by the Rushville Ministerial Association, which is comprised of every minister in the city. An effort will be made to interest the churches and a request will be made of them that they publicly sanction the agitation. It is believed that part of the plan can be executed without any difficulty.

After that is once done the organization hopes to interest the ministers of the city enough so that they will make an appeal from every pulpit in the city on the same Sunday. If that can be done, they plan to circulate the petition all over the city, beginning the next day. J. J. Stetch, former city letter carrier, will have charge of the petitions.

Local postal men believe that their plan will work better than the one which has been instituted in Indianapolis, where it is necessary on account of the city's population, to send out cards to be returned by mail. Here they believe everyone can be reached with a petition.

Corrected Sketch of the Life of Jesse R. Widau

Jesse Roy Widau, only son of John A. and Mary Widau, died at Topeka, Kansas, January 13th, 1911.

Jesse was born at the Widau homestead, south of Raleigh, Indiana, on Nov. 22d, 1881. And this leaves his record of life as 29 years, 7 months and 21 days.

Jesse grew to manhood's years in the home of his birth, and after graduating from the Raleigh graded school, attended business college at Indianapolis. After he had finished here he took a course at the State Normal to prepare for teaching, and from this on his mind seemed centered in educational work, his interest increasing as the years went on.

On December 24th, 1902, at the age of 21, Jesse was made a Master Mason of the Raleigh Lodge. His funeral was conducted under the supervision of his brothers in this lodge.

Jesse leaves to mourn for him his father, his stepmother, and five sisters, namely: Mrs. Lizzie Oldham, Mrs. Minnie McBride, Mrs. Laura Hamilton, Mrs. Ella Cavitt, Mrs.

Pearl Wilson and Miss Flora Widau. Three sisters, Rosetta, Carrie and Bell, with his mother, were waiting to welcome him home to that land where never more shall the weariness of pain lay its wakening hand upon his life.

Jesse was loved and admired by his school mates and many other of his boyhood friends. These sorrow with those nearest him for the loss of this bright one to the world.

Jesse left Indiana for Topeka, Kansas in the fall of 1905. In 1906 he taught a district school, and in 1907, was principal of the school at Richland, Kansas. In 1908 he was principal of the school at Rochester, Kansas, and the last two years has been principal of the school at Tecumseh, a suburb of Topeka, Kansas. Also, for three years past he had been a member of the Shawnee county examining board for teachers.

In his work as a teacher in this county—of which Topeka is the central point, Jesse won the respect of all. He was putting forth every effort to make himself a man of force, a man to be known among men as honorable and upright, and he succeeded.

Last year Jesse spent a six weeks vacation at the home of his father in Washington township. He was not feeling well and his father urged him to give up work for awhile and remain at home until he got better. And though Jesse was well pleased with his new stepmother, and her kindness to him, and his father's tender interest in his welfare, he could not think his sickness serious enough to give up his work, already waiting for him on the examining board, and which he must finish before his school began.

Jesse had seemingly recovered from this illness, and felt that he was to all intents well of it. The cause of his death was pneumonia, taken on after attending a meeting of teachers in Topeka. The onset was sudden and death was at hand before those who cared for him, his affianced and her mother, could fairly realize his dangerous condition. His father was immediately sent for but did not arrive in time to see his son alive.

There was one he loved, the girl he was soon to marry, Miss Mamie Shafer, of Topeka, Kansas, of whom I last speak. Her hands ministered last to him, and when the world and all it held for him was departing, it must have been to her his last smile, his last thought was given. She came with her dead to see all that was mortal of him put away from her eyes until the curtain which hides eternity from life, too, shall be lifted for her.

We pledged our love and plighted troth,
But Oh, they've drifted into night.
Across the shadowy bars he passed,
One smile for me, then gone the light
'Tis sore to deem of those we love
That—waking—we shall never see,
But O, how kindly is the smile,
In dreams my dear one leaves for me.

And this is the brief memory only, their smiles for us we remember best, treasure while life for us shall last.

Life was but a brief span for Jesse, and as it was brief so shall this eulogy be brief. He was an obedient son. He was a good friend. He had naught of harm to say of others. All of the friends he had made in his work speak in highest praise of him, and predicted greater things for him. He made friends everywhere and kept them. He had certainly made good in his life. A man's works—they shall speak for him. That he died in his youth hurts the heart sorely, but, even brief as his life was, he may have finished all that the Great Master Mason of the universe had set for him to do upon earth. When his was done he was called to higher work. He has gone into the Silence from which none return. But from that silence there whispers a song.

"It singeth low in every heart,
We hear it—each and all—
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call.

They throng the silence of the breast.
We see them as of yore,
The kind, the true, the brave, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more.

More homelike seems the vast Unknown—
Since they have entered there.

To follow them is not so hard,
Wherever they may fare.

They cannot be where God is not—
On any sea or shore;
What e'er betides, God's love abides,
"With them—forever more."

DO YOU GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH?

Every day buying is becoming more of a science.

To buy the right kind of goods at the right prices requires discrimination and care—anyone can rush out and buy any old kind of goods from the first dealer he finds.

Some people fail to get the most for their money when it comes to buying their supplies, but are very particular about unimportant matters.

A great help in this direction are the advertisements of the merchants.

Before visiting the stores one can make the task comparatively easy by securing a great deal of information from the announcements of the dealers.

Then shopping can be more intelligently done.

A dealer's sins will sooner or later find him out if he makes a misstatement in his advertisement, and you may depend upon it that he can not keep it up for any great length of time.

It will lose him trade.

The dealer can not afford to misrepresent. He tells the public exactly what he has to sell and explains in honest terms the value of his goods. He is worthy of your confidence and can be depended upon implicitly. This dealer regularly makes his announcements through the columns of the newspapers.

Advertising is the searchlight which reveals true character and only the truth alone can stand regular advertising.

It will pay you to read the advertisements.

Too Happy to Live.

A question now arises, Can a person, by using Sexine Pills, become too happy to live? No. But a person who feels so weak and nervous that life seems a burden can be made happy by building him or herself up by the use of Sexine Pills. Price $1 a box, 6 boxes $5. Address or call Hargrove & Mullin, druggists, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

BAILEY IS THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT

Texan Says He Will Beat Taft Measure.

Washington, Jan. 25.—A bill creating a permanent tariff board has been reported favorably by the house ways and means committee. The victory for President Taft is all the more noteworthy in that all the Democratic as well as the Republican members of the committee voted to report out this important administration measure.

The bill will undoubtedly be passed by the house this week, and then it will go to the senate. What its fate there will be is doubtful. Senator Bailey of Texas has already announced that he will filibuster if necessary against the tariff board legislation, and he has reiterated his opposition, declaring that the bill just reported stands no show of reaching President Taft for approval.

If the Texas senator is determined in his opposition, the president will succeed at least in putting the responsibility for the defeat of the measure squarely up to the Democratic party and in emphasizing the differences that exist on the subject of tariff revision between the Democrats in the house and those in the senate.

President Taft will speak to the Ohio Society of Washington at its annual banquet on Jan. 30.

The Newspaper and Citizenship.

Every year a large number of strangers moves into the territory in which the Republican circulates. For a time they feel the chill of loneliness. But when they subscribe for a home paper here, the new tie becomes as strong as the old, and they adopt the common interests of the older residents.

The family that lives among us, but never reads a home newspaper regularly, gets few ties here. It knows little what people are doing outside of a very limited circle. It fails to find those common interests, those identical impulses of progress, and improvement, and common ambition, that ought to bind us all together.

The home newspaper is thus a tie and an anchor which takes isolated units and binds them into a community of common interests. Whenever you co-operate with the newspaper, by advertising, by subscribing to it, by writing letters for publication, or suggesting news items, you help strengthen the community's strongest unifying force.

The Washington Times compliments Senator Kern on his "magnanimity" as exemplified in his tribute to Senator Beveridge in his speech accepting his election as senator. It is easy to me magnanimous in the moment of victory, but John W. has been the poorest loser, as well as the most frequent, Indiana has ever produced. When he was defeated for governor in 1900 he made a savage personal attack on Governor Mount, who had campaigned against him; in 1904, after his defeat by Governor Hanly, he made a bitter speech at Franklin claiming that he was defeated by the "ignorant negro vote," and when defeated for senator by Senator Shively he made the public charge that eight votes had been bought away from him. Mr. Kern is a man of ability, and will represent Indiana in the senate with credit, but he is always an unpleasant spectacle in the hour of defeat—perhaps because such hours have been so numerous. Still a man who runs for office every time there is an election must expect to get drubbed once in a while.

There's a bill before Congress to apply civil service rules to diplomats and consuls. After 125 years, it occurs to Uncle Sam that it might be well for diplomats to be able at least to say "Yes" and "No" in the language of the country to which they are sent.

The Wisconsin assembly Democrats want the United States Senate abolished. The proper thing for them to do would be to carry the Wisconsin election, instead of trying to smash the whole pie counter.

Although Gov. Dix promises to probe the State departments of New York, the public will hardly be satisfied unless there are some amputations.

John Mitchell says 100 workmen are killed every day in this country. Dusty Rhodes' profession looks like the only conservative one under these circumstances.

"We Can't be as Bad as All That" is the name of a new New York play. Probably they wanted to call it "Naughty but Nice," but found that title copyrighted.

Our Daily Forecast.

Thursday, January 26.—An excellent day, suited in all of its appointments, to attending to your own business, especially in the morning. In the afternoon, it is an ideal time to attend your club meeting and talk about no one but yourself.

Doesn't your money clink sarcastically, when you throw it down on the counter to pay for a load of coal. Well, it finally turns out to be clinkers, anyway.

Some local people just got their Christmas presents. At that rate, they will be celebrating New Year's about next June.

They say that it's best not to mistake a whisk broom for a shredded wheat biscuit at breakfast on the morning after one of "them there city trips."

We found this had been shoved under our door this morning. You can attack the person who did it, if you know him, her or it. Now if Greensburg people will "late" themselves together, "button" up their coats; hold their "tongues"; "toe" the mark; and throw their whole "souls" in the work, they may "heel" some old "patches" with the new shoe factory and thereby "shine" unless it is "soled" or someone "hooks" it from them.

Yes, it's true with some men, that their home is where their hat is off, but not so with James E. Watson.

Alack, what has become of the old fashioned butchering times?

Sloppy weather, aint it?

CROWN OF HONOR FOR CAPT. FRAZER

Xenia, Ohio, Man, Well Known Here, Elected President of Bank in That City.

MARRIED MISS RUBY SEXTON

The following taken from an Xenia, Ohio, paper will be of interest to many local people, as Capt. A. S. Frazer is well known here, having married Miss Ruby Sexton, a sister of Dr. J. C. Sexton, who was born and reared here, and who taught school here for a number of years:

A fitting crown to a quarter of a century of activity with the Xenia National bank came Tuesday when Capt. A. S. Frazer was elected president of the institution. The honor is deserved for a double reason: First because Capt. Frazer is the embodiment of the old sentiment, "old fashioned integrity and a fine sense of honor make the man;" second, because the growth of the institution has been due most to his efforts. Capt. Frazer became cashier of the bank 25 years ago. At that time stock sold at 75 cents. Now it pays 8 per cent per annum free of taxes, and is begged for at $150.

JIMMY VALENTINE, WARDEN HANDLER AND ROSE LANE.

CHAPTER VI.

THE weeks dragged slowly on for Jimmy Valentine after the momentous day when Rose Lane and Lieutenant Governor Pay visited the prison—weeks of hope, weeks of despair.

He concluded that the girl had forgotten him; that her interest in him had been but the evanescent manifestation of a fleeting impulse. Probably "Izzy" Snedden was right after all. Izzy, doing a bit of four for burglary, seemed to know a great deal about women, and he had assured Valentine that "a girl don't know what it means to keep her word, not that she don't mean to, but she just naturally talks so much that she can't remember half what she says."

The lieutenant governor, too, had apparently forgotten about the existence of No. 1289, and Valentine began deeply to wish that his hopes had never been aroused. Far better never to have risen to the heights of expectancy at all than on attaining them to be thus rudely cast from them.

But Valentine had not realized how slowly move the executive wheels of the government of a great and busy state. A governor is held to a strict accountability for his official actions, and in the important matter of the pardon of a man convicted to state prison for a felony haste is entirely out of the question. And it was one day when Jimmy Valentine had lost every vestige of confidence in Rose Lane and her uncle and in the lawyer whom he had retained that hurried footsteps resounded down the cell corridor. A paper, a glorious paper bearing the seal of the Empire State, was flashed before his eyes.

"You are pardoned!" came the welcome announcement. "The governor has released you!"

In one of the parlors of the Ten Eyck hotel, in Albany, within two short blocks of the capitol, Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Moore sat patiently waiting.

"You don't suppose Mr. Valentine would feel uncomfortable in coming to meet our party in a nice respectable place like this, do you?" asked prim little Mrs. Moore of her coworker in the Gate of Hope society.

"No," was the positive response. "That young man wouldn't feel uncomfortable or embarrassed anywhere in the world. This is the first victory for the Gate of Hope, Mrs. Moore, and I trust your report will be such as to encourage others to join us."

"It will be exact, Mrs. Webster, of that you may rest assured. By the way, do you not think we should have had a few reporters here to give public notice of our first triumph?"

"Your report, my dear—we will send that to all papers," and Mrs. Webster smiled proudly as she spoke.

A messenger boy came in with a note from Valentine, who had come to Albany to thank the governor for his release and to meet the people who had worked to secure him his pardon. The note, written from the governor's executive chamber, notified the ladies that he would be with them in fifteen minutes.

Rose Lane and her father, William Lane, an Illinois banker, came into the parlor and greeted the two ladies, who informed the newcomers that Mr. Valentine would shortly arrive. Declining the invitation of Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Webster to join in light refreshments in the tea room on the mezzanine floor, Rose and her father remained in the parlor, while the two ladies departed.

Rose had not seen her father for months, and on his arrival in the east she persuaded him to accompany her to Albany to assure the governor that if he pardoned Valentine he would guarantee him a good business position. It is more than probable that this attitude on the part of a man of Mr. Lane's standing in the financial world had something to do with the final determination of the executive to sign the release papers. It tended to confirm in the governor his belief in the prisoner's innocence. Mr. Lane and his daughter had waited overnight in Albany after the granting of the pardon to meet the released prisoner, who was coming to the capital for the purpose already mentioned.

Rose, absolutely positive of her one time rescuer's innocence, had made a proposal to her father regarding the future of Jimmy Valentine. Her father, tall, well built, with beard and brown hair streaked with outcroppings of gray, smiled indulgently upon her. He had agreed on her account to place Valentine in a good salaried position, but as yet he had doubts as to whether he dared to secure for the ex-convict exactly the employment the girl demanded for him.

"Now, sit down and listen, dad," the girl said, crossing to a sofa.

"But, Rose, this is a most desperate thing to do—pick up an ex-convict and put him in a bank," Mr. Lane protested.

"Is he an ex-convict if he was convicted unjustly?" argued the girl. "Didn't Uncle George say he was innocent?"

"Not exactly. He said there was a chance that he might be."

"But the governor pardoned him."

"Guilty men have been pardoned."

The girl would not be gainsaid.

"But I want you to give this man a chance, dad—a good chance. He risked his life once to save me from insult."

She patted her father's shoulder pleadingly and affectionately.

"I know; I know," declared Mr. Lane. "And you must see him."

Rose was becoming fearful of the end.

"Oh, I'll see him, of course, but to put him to work in the bank—why, Rose, it seems like dying in the face of Providence."

"Dad, doesn't it mean anything to you that I want it done?" Tears began to gather in the girl's eyes.

"Why, of course," relented the father. "Your mother left you 40 per cent of the bank stock, and that alone would make me listen did you see it to even ask it, but who knows about him, and, suppose it became known who he was and what he had done?"

"I've thought of all that, and I want you to risk it, and my 40 per cent wants you to risk it."

"And your heart, Rose?" The father's keen eyes searched the young girl's beautiful face.

Rose returned his glance calmly.

"Yes," she cried, rising and meeting her father's eyes unflinchingly with her own; "I've known men who thought they were heroes all my life, who talked of themselves and bored me to death. And one day from a clear sky, when I was struggling in the arms of a bear eyed brute who beat me if I dared move a hand, this man came."

"There was no blare of bugles or anything but utter courage. He made the ruffian leave me. His voice was low. I could scarcely hear what he said, but there was a note of command and a threat of death in it, and the brute disregarded it, and he mastered him, a beast twice his size. He fought silently and killed him. And all my life that man owns me."

HE BLAMES MORGAN FOR HIS TROUBLES

Indicted Bank Promoter Makes Sensational Charges.

New York, Jan. 25.—Joseph G. Robin, the promoter, who is now under indictment for wrecking the Northern bank and allied institutions, created a sensation before United States Commissioner Alexander by alleging that his troubles and the troubles of the Carnegie Trust company were caused by J. P. Morgan. Robin insisted an attempt was being made by Morgan and financiers allied with him to have him (Robin) "railroaded" to the insane asylum, in order to prevent his disclosing what he knew about frenzied methods of finance in New York.

"They say I am crazy and ought to be in an asylum," fairly shouted Robin, "but if they will just examine the records of the state banking department and the records of the Carnegie Trust company and force the former officials of the Carnegie Trust company to go before the grand jury and tell the truth, then it will be shown how business concerns are forced to the wall so that big interests can pick up bargains in banks."

"Back of this whole proceeding against me are the Morgans, the Carnegies and their kind, who want to control all the banking business in the country."

MAKES CONFESSION

Danville, Ill., Negro Clears Up Several Murder Mysteries.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 25.—Harry Thomas, a negro, arrested on suspicion of having shot Detective Charles W. Sanders in Ned Kelly's home here on the night of Jan. 6, has confessed that he shot Sanders. He also says that Mrs. Ann R. Bennett, an aged white woman who disappeared several weeks ago, was robbed and murdered in a house on VanBuren street here. He gave the police the name of her alleged murderer. A bloody sheet and bloody clothing were found in the house indicated by the negro. He also intimated that Mrs. Elsie Cochran, the white woman whose mutilated body was found on the evening of Oct. 9, near the soldiers' home here, was killed in the same house.

Fred Garner, a member of a prominent family, is in jail charged with this murder.

An Investigation Ordered.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 25.—Led by Delegate Nelson C. Hubbard, who charged bribery, eleven Democrats of the house of delegates bolted the caucus and refused to vote for Watson for United States senator. No one was elected to the short term. For the long term five Democrats of the house bolted the caucus and refused to support Chilton. He received three more than required. The statement charging bribery caused a sensation and an investigation was ordered.

Bride's Treasures Destroyed.

New York, Jan. 25.—"Elmhurst," the wonder palace at Riverdale on the Hudson, stocked with art treasures during the lifetime of Giovanni P. Morosini, was visited by vandals during the honeymoon trip of its chateleine, who was Miss Guila Morosini, from which she has just returned. Everything that could be counted a really personal and treasured possession was destroyed beyond repair. The damage will be $60,000. Nothing was stolen.

JURORS WEPT

Lawyers' Appeals on Behalf of Mrs. Schenk Too Much For Them.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 25.—Weeping bitterly for the first time in the long strain of the past two weeks, Mrs. Laura Schenk could not be consoled while she listened to the eloquent appeals made in her behalf by Attorneys Frank and J. J. P. O'Brien. Three jurors wept. Several others of the jury men had all they could do to keep from breaking down. The lawyers for the defense spoke of the lone woman being stolen from the love and protection of her husband.

Attorney S. O. Boyce completed his arguments this morning and was followed by Prosecutor Handlan, who will conclude for the state. The case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

Losing Interest in It.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 25.—The grand jury investigation of vote buying and selling came to an abrupt halt in order to take up a murder investigation, and while it is said it will begin again, those in a position to know are free in asserting that little more will be done.

The postoffice bill just passed provides that the compensation of rural carriers on routes of standard length shall be increased to $1,000 a year.

Trade figures for the first nine months of Canada's fiscal year show that the total trade amounted to $577,999,628, an increase of $65,511,950.

The house has passed the postoffice bill carrying an appropriation of about $255,000,000 for the maintenance of the postal service in the financial year beginning July 1.

MR. CRUMPACKER HAS HIS BACK UP

And There Is Fear and Trembling In the House.

THAT APPORTIONMENT BILL

Effort to Sidetrack Bill Providing For Congressional Reapportionment Has Caused the Gentleman From Indiana, Who Is Chairman of Census Committee, to Hold Several Sessions With Himself, and a Row Is Promised.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Representative Crumpacker of Indiana is a man of peace under normal conditions, but on occasion he is capable of provoking a great deal of trouble. Judge Crumpacker has held several executive sessions with himself lately, and as a result the house leaders are beginning to show signs of uneasiness. A year ago the Indiana man wandered into the house one day, presented a resolution, and there ensued a fight over the rules that lasted three or four days and ended in Uncle Joe Cannon being dethroned from his place at the head of the committee on rules.

Judge Crumpacker has his back up again, and unless the hump is smoothed out by the leaders the prospects are that he will stir up a big storm over the apportionment bill. As chairman of the committee on census, Representative Crumpacker reported a few weeks ago an apportionment bill providing for a house of 433 members. Without consulting Chairman Crumpacker, the leaders began to devise ways and means to sidetrack the Crumpacker bill. It was at this point that Chairman Crumpacker began to hold executive sessions with himself.

He intends now to rise in his place in the house and call up the apportionment bill as a subject of constitutional privilege having precedence over all ordinary legislation. The speaker cannot refuse Chairman Crumpacker recognition, and, once recognized, Mr. Crumpacker will demand immediate consideration of his bill. The fight will then be on. The leaders, and in fact a number of house Republicans, are anxious to defer action on the apportionment bill. New York Republicans are opposed to its passage at this time, owing to the fact that both branches of the state legislature are at present controlled by the Democrats. If it goes Republican next year the members of the party will have a say in the redistricting of the state. Action this year would put this duty on the Democrats.

POSTOFFICE BILL

Provides For an Increase of Pay For Rural Mail Carriers.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Forty thousand rural letter carriers through the country will receive increased salaries beginning July 1 next, under the terms of an amendment incorporated in the postoffice appropriation bill, which has just passed the house. Carriers on standard routes of twenty-five miles and over will each receive increases of $100, thus giving them $1,000 instead of $900 a year as at present. Carriers on routes of less than twenty-five miles in length are allowed proportionate increases, according to the number of miles traveled.

The postoffice bill providing for the maintenance of the postal service in the fiscal year beginning July 1 next authorizes expenditures approximating $255,000,000. This is about $4,000,000 in excess of the amount made available for the current year.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 25.—In the balloting by the legislature James E. Martine came within one vote of being elected United States senator from New Jersey. Smith, realizing that he could not win the senatorship, released all his supporters from any further obligation to vote for him, and Mr. Martine's election today was assured.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

IT PASSED BY A VOTE OF 29 TO 21

Indiana Senate Amends Local Option Law.

A LESSER UNIT IS FAVORED

Instead of the County Being the Unit of Option, the Amended Law Will Make the Township and Incorporated City the Unit—Not a Strict Party Vote—State Board of Accounts Submits Report.

Indianapolis, Jan. 25.—Including the Proctor bill amending the present local option law, there were ten bills passed in the senate yesterday. This is the Democratic platform bill, and its provisions substitute the incorporated city, the township and territory in the township outside the incorporated city, as option units instead of the county. The bill passed by a vote of 29 to 21, two Democrats, McCarty of Frankfort and Tilden of Greencastle, voting against the measure, and Durre (Rep.) of Evansville, for it. Otherwise the vote was in strict party alignment.

Other Bills Passed.
Among the other bills passed was one giving the Indianapolis board of public health power to establish public playgrounds and maintain them by means of a fund raised by a special tax levy of one-half cent for each $100 of taxable property passed. Senator Kistler's bill repealing the law which sends an insane defendant in a felony case to the prison for insane criminals was passed. A resolution was adopted for printing 1,500 copies of Governor Marshall's message.

In the house four bills were passed and the state board of accounts report was presented. There was handclapping from every part of the house when the clerk announced that in compliance with two house resolutions the state board of accounts had submitted a complete report of its acts from Jan. 1, 1909, to Dec. 31, 1910. The report was so voluminous the reading clerk could scarcely handle it while reading the title. It comprised about 150 closely typewritten pages, most of which contained tabulated statistics, and when Connelly (Rep.) made a motion that the report be printed and laid on the desks of the members he was roared down.

If the report had been sent to the printer it would have meant an outlay of $800 or $900. On motion of Wise (Dem.), the report was referred to a committee of three, to be named by the speaker. Wise suggested that Wells, who was one of the most insistent in those demanding a report from the board, be made a member of the committee. The speaker appointed Cravens, Wells and Faris.

Saving to the State.
Governor Marshall's declaration made at the time the public accounting law went into effect, that the operation of the law would result in a saving of at least $100,000 a year to the townships of the state has been proved to be well grounded by a report filed with the governor by William A. Dehority chief of the board of accounts. Mr. Dehority's showing is that the total net saving to the 1,017 townships of the state for 1909, when the law went into effect, over the preceding year was $25,764.37.

The public accounting law went into effect in June, 1909, in time to exert its influence on the purchase of supplies for the following school year, the purchases being made in August and September. At that time the board introduced uniform methods of bidding, and required copies of bids and contract prices to be submitted to the board. The gross savings for the year 1909 amounted to $829,380.97, while the gross increases on certain funds was $303,616.60.

"I am convinced," said the governor, "that the immense saving shown, which is, of course, very gratifying to me and to members of the board, has been due to the supervision the board has exercised over the purchase of township supplies. It will be noted that the decreases have been reported in funds from which supplies of various kinds are paid for.

"The increase in the tuition and other funds is gratifying, because it means more days of school and better paid teachers, better library facilities, payment for more animals killed by dogs, and more bonded indebtedness paid off.

"Since the savings have been reported from the township, road, special school and poor funds, it means that the townships have been able to get along with more than $500,000 a year less than they had formerly been paying for supplies and the like."

Governor Marshall has caused a bill to be introduced in the legislature to head off Illinois and Kentucky gamblers who have been operating poolrooms at Dearborn Park, near Chicago, and Jeffersonville, across the river from Louisville. The bill makes the operation of a poolroom a felony with punishment of from one to eight years in prison. The law will also apply to "any person who shall record or register bets or wagers or sell pools on the result of any trial or contest of skill, speed or power of endurance of man or beast."

MINE WORKERS TAKE ON A NEW PRESIDENT

Lewis Practically Admits Defeat By White.

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—President T. L. Lewis of the Mine Workers, after suffering three defeats on the floor of the convention, practically admitted through his friends that he had been defeated for re-election. The Lewis men referred to themselves as the minority.

It is now expected that the report of the tellers will be submitted tomorrow, and will show President Lewis defeated by John P. White of Oskaloosa, Ia. The White men claim that he has been elected by 40,000, while an unofficial report says that Lewis has been beaten by 22,000.

The decision of the delegates to seat the thirty-one contested delegates from the Irwin field means that the long strike in that field, which is opposed by President Lewis, will be continued and that in all probability a general strike will be called.

Tried to Smother Girl.
Cincinnati, Jan. 25.—Two thousand policemen are searching for a negro who, after binding and gagging Miss Alma Lammers, a servant, in the home of her employer, stuffed her into a chest, clamped on the lid and left her to smother to death. That the lid did not fit tightly and that passersby noticed the open door and an overturned water bucket, caused her rescue in time to save her life. The girl is in a hospital, unconscious.

Sentenced For Life.
Anderson, Ind., Jan. 25.—Frank Ricketts, aged twenty-nine, pleaded guilty to two affidavits charging him with murder in the first degree, and was sentenced to prison for life. Ricketts, on Thanksgiving day, shot and instantly killed his wife, Ida R. Ricketts, aged twenty-six, and her companion, Mrs. Nettie Britton, aged twenty-five.

PHILLIPS DEAD FROM INJURIES

Author Could Not Survive Fearful Wounds.

HIS SUFFERINGS WORE HIM OUT

After a Night and a Day of the Most Intense Suffering It Was Apparent That the Writer Could Not Survive and the End Came Near Midnight—Some Hint of His Slayer's Motive For the Crime.

New York, Jan. 25.—Last night, at Bellevue hospital, David Graham Phillips, the writer, who was shot six times on Monday afternoon by Fitzhugh Coyle Goldsborough, a violinist, who then committed suicide, as Mr. Phillips was about to enter the Princeton club in Gramercy Park, died. Mr. Phillips had been vomiting blood during the day, which symptom told the physicians that the perforation in the lung caused by a bullet which had entered the right chest and had passed out of the body near the left shoulder blade, was not healing.

As 11 o'clock approached the patient's condition became especially alarming. The excessive pain in the abdominal region during the day, the constant leakage of blood into the throat from his lung, and intestinal sufferings following the administering of ether on Monday, had worn the novelist out. During a severe spell of coughing at 11:07 o'clock, he died.

At his bedside were Mrs. Trevert, the novelist's sister, and Harrison Phillips, his brother. The last friend of Mr. Phillips to visit the hospital last night was George Horace Lorimer and Samuel G. Blythe of the Saturday Evening Post. Throughout the day many magazine writers, novelists and artists had left cards at the hospital, but none of the callers except Senator Beveridge were permitted to visit the patient's room. Many of the visitors and others had sent floral gifts and after the death of Mr. Phillips these were arranged about his bier. The funeral may be delayed to permit the dead novelist's aged mother to make the long trip from Los Angeles.

Goldsborough's Motive.

More evidence showing that Goldsborough held enmity toward Phillips has been learned, but at best no one seemed able to piece enough of this evidence together to show why Goldsborough should have gone to the extreme of shooting Phillips, or for that matter why Goldsborough, unless his brain were abnormal, should hold any enmity at all.

Stories that the violinist shot the novelist because Mr. Phillips in his "Joshua Craig" had portrayed characters which Goldsborough thought were taken from Goldsborough's own family in Washington, were repeated to Harrison Phillips, his brother. He said that neither he nor his brother or sister knew the Goldsborough family.

It was learned also that almost a year ago Goldsborough went to the city hall to complain to Mayor Gaynor about persons annoying him. During this visit the violinist mentioned to the mayor's secretary the name of David Graham Phillips.

From a diary in which Goldsborough had been making entries daily since the beginning of the year, it was learned that the violinist had begun the year by making entries of a rambling nature about Phillips. Beneath Mr. Phillips's name Goldsborough had written the sentences: "He is my enemy." "He is an enemy to society."

Also from the sentences it appears that Goldsborough had read Mr. Phillips's writings and that some of them had displeased him. It was gathered that he was particularly displeased with intimations in some place in Phillips's books that women of wealth and social position smoke cigarettes and drink too much.

Grief of the Goldsboroughs.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Upon learning of Mr. Phillips's death, Miss Frances Goldsborough, sister of Fitzhugh Goldsborough, said: "On behalf of my father, mother and myself, I can only express the most intense grief because of the occurrence and the outcome of the occurrence."

WILL SETTLE IT

Resignation Request Didn't Take, So Beattie Will Be Fired.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Charlton B. Beattie, United States district attorney at New Orleans, whose resignation was called for, does not intend to obey the request. Mr. Beattie, it has become known here, has refused to resign and has practically informed the department of justice that he much prefers to be thrown out. Attorney General Wickham refused to discuss the case, but it is probable that steps will be taken to remove Mr. Beattie expeditiously and with certainty.

Means Life Imprisonment.

Marshfield, Mo., Jan. 25.—Guilty of murder in the first degree, was the verdict returned by the jury in the case of Walter A. Dimpley and Goldie Smith, charged with the murder of Stanley Ketchel, pugilist. Sentences of life imprisonment were recommended for each defendant.

WHAT SPENDING $100.00 MEANS.

Have you ever stopped to consider seriously the earning power of money?

Do you realize that whenever you spend money foolishly you are not only losing this actual cash in hand, but also the interest that the money might earn for you as long as you live.

For example, suppose you have saved $100.00. You can put this money into the Bank or you can spend it.

Whether you spend it wisely or not you will lose more than $3.00 every year for life, for that is what $100.00 would earn at 3 per cent interest in The Rush County National Bank.

If your expenditure of the $100.00 is a wise and necessary one, it is probably worth $3.00 a year even if you live for 50 years longer, but if you are planning to spend that $100.00 foolishly, our advice to you is don't, but just put it into this Bank and let the 3 per cent compound interest double or treble your capital.

RUSH COUNTY NATIONAL BANK.

Tonight they will show a big Bison feature film, "The Wrong Trail," a very unique story of western life. The other film, "The Little Fire Chief" is a Thanhouser and is said to be a drama with a very interesting story woven about the clever plot. A new illustrated song will be sung.

AT LAST REPORTS WORK OF BOARD SPEAKS HIGHLY OF JESSE WIDAU

W. A. Dehority Files Long-Delayed Showing of Cost of State Accounting Law.

DEPARTMENT COST $203,281.51

Chief Shows Only $51,193.11 Has Been Recovered, Leaving $152,088.40, Cost to Taxpayers.

The long-delayed report of W. A. Dehority, State examiner for the State Board of Accounts, which was received by the House of Representatives yesterday morning in response to a resolution demanding the report, adopted two weeks ago, showed that the total cost of the department to the State up to Jan. 1, 1911, was $203,281.54, and the total amount of money recovered was $51,193.11, says an Indianapolis dispatch. The authenticity of the report was questioned, although certified by Mr. Dehority, and certified statement of the cost of examinations and the money recovered may be asked of each corporation investigated.

Representative Cravens, floor leader of the House; Representative Wells of Scott county and Representative Faris, minority floor leader, were appointed by the speaker as a committee to report and present their conclusions to the House. The committee had not appointed a time to go over the report last night, but a stenographer has been engaged to tabulate the cost of the examinations by counties, which Mr. Dehority's report did not show.

The total cost of the field examinations since the State Board of Accounts was created amounted to $161,258.44, of which $11,713.95 is unpaid. The total cost of maintaining the central office in the State House, amounted to $42,023.10 from June, 1909, to December, 1910. Of this amount $27,604.87 was paid out for salaries and $7,660.87 for printing.

Various representatives discussed the report and the bill introduced by Representative Wells to curtail the expenditure of the department during the remainder of the day. The criticisms of the department related to many aspects of the work. One member said a docket for fines and forfeitures, prepared by the department for the use of the county clerks had been received at Shelbyville and that it had been computed that the book would last approximately 1,936 years, if the business of the last four years is taken as a criterion.

A lively debate is predicted when the report of the committee appointed yesterday presents its conclusions on the floor of the House. The criticism which has been directed against the State Board of Accounts appears to be well divided between the majority and minority parties in the Lower House.

County Superintendent Tells Loss of Valuable Teacher in Death of Mr. Widau.

A letter from John F. Elby, county superintendent of public schools at Topeka, Kansas, in which county Jesse Widau, son of John Widau, living near Raleigh, who died recently of pneumonia and who was buried here, speaks in highly complimentary terms of the late Mr. Widau. Not only does the county superintendent speak highly of him, but also do the members of the Shawnee County Teachers' Association, who unanimously adopted resolutions concerning his life as follows:

Be it resolved that inasmuch as we, the teachers of Shawnee county, have lost a conscientious and faithful co-worker and friend from our ranks in the death of Jesse R. Widau, we desire to extend our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of bereavement to his father and sisters who survive him.

We recognize in our lost one, a most kind and generous friend, one who was held in the highest esteem and confidence by both teachers and pupils. We recognize him as one of our most thorough and competent workers, always doing that which he thought would be to the best interests of his chosen profession—teaching.

We further believe that his fairness and influence for good in the various positions of prominence in the school room as well as that of assistant examiner for teachers' certificates and county diplomas, will be felt for many years to come, throughout this county.

With abiding confidence in the Supreme Power and trusting that strength will be given to the bereaved ones, we unanimously adopt the above resolutions and request that a copy be sent to the Daily Republican of Rushville, Indiana.

The letter from the county superintendent concerning Jesse Widau is: In behalf of the relatives, pupils, teachers and friends of the late Jesse R. Widau, in Shawnee county, Kansas, I desire to say a word.

Jesse, as he was commonly called by those closely associated with him, was a favorite among the pupils and patrons where he taught. He was generous and kindhearted and was always ready and willing to assist in any good cause.

So successful was he in his chosen profession, teaching, that I promoted him to a position on the Shawnee county examining board. This board is composed of the county superintendent and two assistants appointed by him, who examine each teacher in the county before a certificate to teach is granted. This board also examines all pupils for county diplomas. His work in this connection had been highly satisfactory. His place as principal of the Tecumseh school as well as his place on the examining board will be hard to fill.

The summer of 1910 he spent at his home in Mays, Indiana, with his father and step-mother, and we all were pleased to note his improvement in health upon his return later in the summer. He spoke highly of the visit and spoke of gaining seven pounds in weight.

He will always have a warm place in the hearts and memories of those who knew him best.

Those who were at his bedside at the time of his death, which occurred at the home of Nicholas Schaefer, were his two cousins, A. E. Widau of Oakland, Kansas, Fred Widau of Wakarusa, Kansas, the members of the Schaefer family and myself.
